

CUSTARD'S CAT FLAP

---

Once upon a time there was a cat. His name was Custard. Custard was Milly's cat. Custard had a cat flap. He liked the cat flap.

But when Milly went to bed, cats came in the cat flap and they had a party.

When Milly got up, she saw ...

Cat fur on the chairs, cat food on the floor, and paw prints on the table.

"Look at this mess!" She said. "What have you been doing?"

But Custard wouldn't say.

At night Milly didn't go to bed. She looked out the window and she saw ... cats coming in the cat flap. She looked in the door and she saw ... a cat party!

Milly said: "Custard can't have a cat party in my house! I don't like cat fur on the chairs, cat food on the floor, and paw prints on the table!"

So Milly made a sign for the cat flap. The cats looked at the sign and they went away. Milly went to bed. When she got up, she saw ... dog fur on the chairs, dog food on the floor, and paw prints on the table.

Milly said: "Look at this mess! What have you been doing?"

But Custard wouldn't say.
